SUPPLIES:

- Tissue paper
- Scissors
- Glue
- Branches or dowels

INSTRUCTIONS:

1-Stack several pieces of tissue on top of each other and cut out a flower shape. It does not need to be perfect! Mine were about 2 1/2" across and had five petals, but it doesn't really matter that much. I wanted to do two colors, but you can just do one. And because I know a few of you are bound to notice. . . yes, my light pink paper has words on it. But it's all I had and I knew once it was all scrunched up they wouldn't show. Which they don't. Thank goodness.

2-For two-toned cherry blossoms, stack two flowers on top of each other with the petals not matched up.

3-Now just scrunch the flower petals up and twist the whole thing together at the bottom.

I thought it would be more realistic if there were variations in the blossoms, so I made some light pink, some dark pink, and some with the two colors together. To make smaller blossoms like the two on the left, just scrunch up one flower at a time.

4-Now it's time to glue them to your branches. I used branches that I pruned from our apple tree. If you don't have your own tree, check with your neighbors. You should be able to find some unwanted branches this time of year.

I think it looks best to apply the blossoms to the natural buds of the branch. Just add a tiny dab of hot glue, and press your blossom on.

Continue adding blossoms to all sides of your branches.

5-When you are all finished, just stick them in the container of your choice. I added some wheat at the bottom to hold them in place.
